With both of his parents in the insurance industry since he was a young child, Brian wanted to use what he had been learning his entire life to assist others in protecting their assets. After graduating college in 1996 from UNLV, Brian quickly entered the insurance business as an underwriter with Farmers Insurance. Over the next few years, Brian gained claims experience and Agency operations experience. It was in early 2003 that Brian felt that with his background and additional years of experience in many other areas of insurance that it was time to launch his own agency. In 2005 he was named Auto agent of the year, commercial agent of the year, and agent of the year for his entire district. Early on Brian became involved in commercial insurance and realized that this was his passion. He worked with developers and property managers on many condominium conversion projects. He worked directly with underwriting on how to handle this process and was recognized by Farmers as a go to person in the realm of condo conversion. In 2006 he was recognized by Farmers Insurance as an elite commercial agent. The same year he led all of Farmers Insurance's business in commercial property and casualty with a $1,000,000 in sales.
